

Wildflower Families,

I hope that everyone was able to take some time this weekend to gather together and to nourish one's needs. At the corner of Wildflower Nelson's campus, this HEART tree knot reminds us all of the reason Wildflower was your chosen school; a school where healthy relationships, healthy attachment through mutual respect is built. This is a school of choice as we believe in the values, the on-going commitment to work together as a compassionate supportive community, purposefully to support the whole child. In this we foster relationships, and do the heart-work. These relationships take time to build. I too am a part of this relationship, am committed to it, and stand open, with warmth, to build upon these values with you – respectfully in leading with love.

Emergence:

Kirsten found a cocoon a few weeks ago, (apparently finding these is a secret talent), and on Monday brought in this beautiful creature, sharing its beauty, and emergence lesson with many. Later with her class, they gathered and shared in it going back out into the wild.

The best welcome in the morning:

Reminders for this coming week are these:

- All K-9's will be outside for recess and lunch this week so please ensure that each have a rain jacket and appropriate footwear.
- Play stations will be arranged throughout the school grounds to offer enjoyment for all.
- Anna will be back in with her class along with Catherine. Welcome back Anna!
- Bianca will be in Barb's class till the end of this week (Justin had a pre-arranged commitment).
- I will be taking the grade 9's to LVR this Wednesday.
